

Homelessness in the Age of Foreclosures

Cheri Honkala, the National Organizer of the Poor People's Economic Human Rights Campaign, will describe how the US economic collapse created new homeless individuals, what poor people are doing around the country to fight back against their invisibility, and how others can join the movement to end poverty.

Wednesday, March 24th at 12-1:30 p.m.
Room 114 at Seymour College Union
The College at Brockport

Cheri Honkala is a former welfare recipient and homeless single mother who has been on the front lines of the poverty struggle for more than 20 years. She is a housing rights activist and an anti poverty organizer. She has been a leader of countless demonstrations against domestic policies that maintain homelessness and poverty.

Bring a lunch (beverages and dessert provided)

For more information please contact 395-5509 or jdunn2@brockport.edu.

Partially funded by a Better Community Coalition GICD Grant and support from: Student Social Work Organization; The Department of Social Work; The Women's Center; NASW-NYS Genesee Valley Division; Rochester Chapter of the Social Welfare Action Alliance; GRC MSW Program of Nazareth College and the College at Brockport. Co-sponsored by the Department of Women and Gender Studies and the Greater Rochester Chapter of NOW.